

Wiljar Nesse

Chief Executive Officer

Wiljar Nesse joined DigiPlex as Chief Executive Officer on 1st March 2020. An experienced leader he has worked in internet, IT services and consulting businesses across the Nordic region for over twenty-five years. Throughout his career he has helped organisations maximize the benefits of digital infrastructure through new delivery models, quality and innovation. Under his guidance, organizations have seen significant improvement in revenue, EBITA and customer satisfaction.

Since June 2018, Nesse has also been a board member at Abelia, part of the Confederation of Norwegian Business and Industry (NHO) - Norway's largest organisation for employers and a leading business lobbyist. He is also a member of NHO's panel for future business and industry in Norway.

Under his leadership in 2020, DigiPlex has opened two new data centers in Norway; been recognized by ISG as a leader in Nordic colocation; achieved a CSAT score exceeding the Nordic benchmark and successfully completed a new senior secured bond issue of NOK 655 million plus a NOK 180 million tap issue under the Company's existing senior secured bonds.

Prior to joining DigiPlex, Nesse was the Executive Vice President of financial services at IT software and service company TietoEVRY, a DigiPlex customer. He joined EVRY in 2012 as the company acquired his then employer, EDB Financial Services, the largest Nordic commercial provider of IT based services to the banking industry. Before then, he held senior positions at chemical company Elkem, financial information firm Dow Jones, and CEO/part-owner of financial advisory firm Manamind AS.

“DigiPlex is a company at the forefront of the booming Nordic data centre industry. The opportunities for the business and the whole industry are huge as we stand on the cusp of ever greater digitalization of the economy and society. DigiPlex has carved a reputation as an innovative leader with sustainability at the heart of its corporate purpose. I am honored and excited to be leading this company at such an important time,”
Wiljar Nesse, CEO of DigiPlex

Wiljar Nesse holds a degree from the University of Bergen and further degrees from Karlsruhe Institute of Technology and the Norwegian School of Economics.

Wiljar lives in Norway with his family and enjoys outdoor activities including hunting and trekking.
